3. CALL TO THE PUBLIC: Jane Kleban, president of the Friends wanted to congratulate Sandy on her appointment to the Board. She also suggested that future board candidates should fill out a formal application or a committee should be set-up to select future board members. Cindy explained that the past year has been very unusual in the need to have appointments to the Board rather than the typical public election process. When vacancies have occurred, there generally have not been multiple applicants for the opening that would necessitate a more formal or elaborate process. The library board’s main desire is to appoint active patrons of the library who have its best interests in mind and care enough to serve in this capacity. The board will consider the suggestion when and if another vacancy does occur.
